

Instructor: Jane Tutor, Phone: (999) 999-9999

Student: John Student, Phone: (999) 999-9999

Textbook: SAT Preparation Text and Tutor Notes

Prerequisites: Motivation to work hard and succeed on the SAT

SAT Test Date: June 7, 2008.

Student's Goals: Increase sub-scores for College Admissions.

PSAT Scores, October 2007: Critical Reading (470), Mathematics (550), Writing Skills (520).

Pre-Test Scores, April 27, 2008: Critical Reading (500), Mathematics (390), Writing Skills (520).

Weaknesses: Sentence Completion (Chapter 4); Averages (pp.413-419); Logical Reasoning (pp. 494-499); Inequalities (pp. 425-434); Triangles (pp. 459-465); Circles (pp. 472-476); Logical Reasoning (pp. 494-499); Word Problems (pp. 434-441); and Improving Sentences (Chapter 9).

Course Outline:

- Pre-test, Inventory of Student's Strengths and Weaknesses 3 hr., Week One
- Do I have to read the entire passage? Master the Critical Reading section. 3 hr., Week Two
- Numbers, letters, words and graphs:
- Pre-Algebra and Algebra in the Mathematics section. 3 hr., Week Three
- Everything you forgot from English class: Writing Skills & the Essay. 3 hr., Week Four
- Squares, Triangles and Circles; and Pretzel Logic:
- Breaking down the advanced mathematics questions. 3 hr., Week Five
- Sentence Completion is not MAD LIBS:
- Finding the "correct" word for sentence completion questions. 3 hr., Week Six
- Revisit Reading Comp. and Math Strategies. 3 hr., Week Seven
- Can I just take the test finally? The Post-test and Final Remarks. 3 hr., Week Eight

ADA Accomodations: Any student who, because of a disability, may require special arrangements in order to meet testing requirements should contact the school as soon as possible to make necessary arrangements. The school may request verification of need before accomodations, such as extended time or preferential seating, are given.

Additional Remarks: Asking questions is strongly encouraged. Also, independent study between sessions is encouraged and can make a large difference in test results.